

VOTERS DEFY COLLECTORS TO CHOOSE PRESIDENT

Will Wilson Resign if Harding Wins Today?

Belief President Will Quit Office If Cox Is Defeated

RUMORS MANY THAT PRESIDENT WILL FIGHT NO LONGER.
LEAGUE, IS REASON Has Some Hope in Present Senate Should Cox Carry the Nation.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Copyright 1920, Janesville Daily Gazette.)
Washington, Nov. 2.—Aside from the actual result of the election, perhaps nothing has given greater concern here than the possible effect upon President Wilson of an adverse verdict at the polls. The president has always had unbounded confidence in his own judgment of what the American electorate would do and yet many of his friends think he will be greatly disappointed this time. He has had reverses before as in 1912 but on nothing that close to his heart as the covenant of the league of nations. It has been argued convincingly in the press that the election result will not have indicated anything conclusive about the league and will only have registered the natural reaction of people against their war government something that has happened throughout Europe. But nobody in the inner circle of the administration has probably parted the way for tomorrow's defeat. So far as is generally known, the president has been continuously optimistic about the outcome.

Victory or Defeat.
Were it not for the frail condition of the president's health, the election would not be a moment for anxiety. Indeed, there have been rumors that Mr. Wilson might feel constrained to resign the presidency if Cox were elected. On the other hand, the possibility that the senate might do something has been held out as a consolation especially for the peace treaty at the December session of congress in an effort once more to reach a compromise. The new senate would not, of course, take office until after next March when a special session would be called.

ASK NEW PROBE OF COMFORT STATIONS

Councilmen Unwilling to Choose Myers Hotel Site—Want Further Investigation.
A half hour of discussion of comfort stations by the council Monday evening ended with a decision to refer the matter back to the special committee for further investigation.

WELSH AND HILL ARGUE
The talk last night was featured by a debate between Mayor T. E. Welsh and Ald. W. J. Hill, one of the hottest in several weeks. Hill declared the Myers hotel site for a women's comfort station. In this, he apparently won his point in that the matter was sent back to the committee.

The committee's report follows in part: "Mr. Keeler offers the city all the room necessary for women's and men's comfort station at an annual rental of $800. Keeler to furnish the site, the city to pay for the water bills, and the lease to run 5 years from next May. He also agrees that the city is to be allowed the necessary improvements until Jan. 1, 1920."

RECORD NUMBER OF BALLOTS CAST, WOMEN GET OUT

SNOWS AND RAINS DO NOT PREVENT CROWDS TURNING OUT AT POLLS.
2,000,000 LINE UP Fight for Control of Congress Is Second to Presidency in Interest.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 2.—Men and women voters of the 48 sovereign states of the nation went to the polls today to select a new president for the four years beginning March next. Before the dawn of another day has broken, the country in all likelihood will know whether Warren G. Harding, republican, or James M. Cox, democrat, has been elected to succeed Woodrow Wilson. It is a record since the nation has had a presidential election, and a miracle none of the other five candidates has a chance. This choice, it is estimated, will be made by 2,000,000 men and 2,000,000 women, many of whom are women who have been enfranchised since the presidential election and are voting today for the first time.

CONGRESS FIGHT VIAL.
Second only to the contest for the presidency is the fight between the major parties for the control of the new congress. Thirty-four United States senators are to fill seats now held by 17 democrats and 15 republicans and two to fill the unexpired terms of the late senators. In the house, 435 members, 215 democrats and 220 republicans, are to be elected.

HALF OF CHILDREN ARE UNDER WEIGHT

County Nurse Finds 156 of 315 More Than 10 Pct. Below Normal.

That 156 out of 315 children inspected in the rural schools of Rock county are over 10 per cent under weight, was brought out by Miss Anna Leutscher, county nurse, who made her report to the county committee yesterday afternoon. The committee, consisting of Mrs. W. E. Clark, Leutscher, Judge John B. (Irish), Evansville, Judge John B. (Irish), Leutscher and O. D. Andrus, superintendent of rural schools, decided on the basis of the report that they will put before the county board which meets next Wednesday a resolution recommending that the 433 pupils which she inspected in the past month, in which there was a combined enrollment of 511, of a combined weight of 15,000 pounds, 233 were found to be defective in some way. The nurse says that in some small school lighting conditions were so bad that of 10 children had defective eyesight.

Advocates Hot Lunches
The need of hot lunches in the schools was brought out by Miss Leutscher. "While many of the rural schools have facilities for lunching the children, many of the children who live a long distance from the building, this means that it is to be in all rural schools."

Miss Leutscher reports that teeth and tonsils seem to be a main trouble in the children. Out of 433 children 178 had defective teeth; 195, diseased tonsils; and 84, glands which were not normal. Only one case of a tumor was found. The entire number of children inspected, skin and bone trouble, were to be found in only one case. The percentage of children with eye trouble seems to be comparatively high, 47 cases of defective eyes being reported by Miss Leutscher.

Children Are Notified
Where the children are below normal in some respect, the nurse either sends notices to the physician or she visits the home herself. During the past month 140 notices were sent to parents, 30 talks were had with pupils regarding their condition, and 27 talks were had with the parents.

Eggs in the stores are also being inspected under the scrutiny of the sanitary inspector and rigid enforcement is being made that all storage eggs be so labeled and be kept away from the fresh ones.

STANDARD OIL CO. IS AGAIN BEATEN

Spring Brook Property Owners Say Tanks Would Stop All Development.

Defeated in its attempt to build storage tanks on North Main street and partially thwarted in the proposal to erect them in Spring Brook, the Standard Oil company today is at a loss to know where to build its local storage station.

There were 40 signers to a property owners' petition presented to the council last night protesting against the company's plan to put its reserve tanks on Spring Brook property, located south of the main line of the St. Paul, abutting on the belt switch and the company's plant.

Confronted by this strong protest, P. J. B. Wood, attorney appearing for the corporation, asked to have withdrawn the proposed ordinance to give the company a permit. He sought this rather than to have it killed.

The ordinance, which had been given its first two readings, was given its third and then withdrawn by unanimous consent of the council. The petition was received and placed on file.

The property owners in the southeastern part of the city, the grounds that the tanks would constitute a fire hazard, jeopardizing property throughout the district. Further, it would stop all building development there, both residential and industrial. Attention was drawn to the point that this section is a natural industrial district and that other locations might be found for the tanks.

FEWER TRAMPS LIVE ALONG RAILROADS, ACCIDENTS LESS
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 2.—Fewer persons were killed on railroads during 1919 than in any year since 1898, and fewer were injured than in any year since 1910, said a statement issued today by the interstate commerce commission.

During 1919, a total of 8,973 persons were killed and 149,053 injured, compared with 6,859 killed in 1918 and 119,007 injured in 1910. Of the killed during the year, 277 were passengers and of the injured, 7,456 were passengers. Tramps killed during 1919 numbered 2,138 and 131,018 were injured.

Fewer trespassers on railroads were killed in 1919 than during any year of the commission's records which go back to 1899. Last year 2,653 trespassers were killed and 2,658 injured. Railroad officials said there were less persons out of employment and fewer tramps than formerly, because of the war.

The Royal Neighbors will hold a Rummage Sale Wednesday and Thursday at Sheldon's Tin Shop, N. Bluff St.

Election returns at Y. M. C. A. tonight. Private wire. Band concert and entertainment all evening. Everybody invited. Free to all.

No Chipping

Laundry soap in bars, even when chipped and boiled, is unsatisfactory when used in washing machines. And chipping and boiling means trouble and a waste of time. We say this, although we are large manufacturers of laundry soap. It is because of this opinion that we perfected Ajax Naphtha Chips for the convenience of washing machine owners.

No Rubbing

Ajax Naphtha Chips dissolve dirt, grease and stains. You don't have to rub by hand. The action of your washing machine, drawing the thick lather through and through every garment, dissolves all soil. You can do a complete washing almost without wetting your hands. When wrung from the Ajax suds clothes are thoroughly clean.

No Soaking

The tiresome task of soaking clothes over night before each wash day is another misery to which you say goodbye. Except, perhaps, in the case of extremely soiled work garments. Ajax Naphtha Chips and your washing machine do their work without such tiresome preparation. They make your machine the efficient, labor-saving, time-saving practical convenience that it should be, with wash day no longer to be dreaded.

Perfected for Just This To Make Your Washing Machine More Efficient

Here is an announcement of interest to every owner of a washing machine. The introduction of perfected washing machine soap—soap containing Naphtha—soap in chip form—soap containing rich, smooth Olive Oil—soap free from all adulterations and impurities.

We worked many months, we made innumerable experiments, before we learned the combination which would best do the work required.

We analyzed and studied every leading brand of laundry soap, to learn why and where they failed to give the best results.

We tested chips and soap flakes to discover what they lacked in doing efficient washing machine work.

These prolonged experiments—these exhaustive tests—revealed the secret.

From them we learned what ingredients are the most efficient. They taught us to embody them in a new form—a thin, curly, wafer-like flake which doesn't pack and mat—a chip which the water can get at and thoroughly dissolve.

Naphtha and Olive Oil

Ajax Naphtha Chips are pure soap—the finest possible soap, in any form, which can be made.

Because every flake is pure soap and all soap. Ajax Chips go farther than other kinds. Their use is an economy—you really only need about half as much as ordinary chips or laundry soap.

Olive Oil is used in Ajax Naphtha Chips. This rich, green, crude olive oil tends to give them a greenish color.

Olive Oil Soap keeps clothes fresh and soft, preserves their newness. For this reason it is used in woolen mills, and by lace manufacturers.

Why we add Naphtha

To this de luxe base we have added Naphtha, the cleanser used in combination with fine soap by all professional cleaners.

Naphtha loosens dirt, it dissolves grease, it helps take out stains. It does away with the need for soaking, rubbing or boiling the average soiled clothes.

Ajax Naphtha Chips make an enormous, thick, stiff lather—the biggest, fullest lather ever produced by any soap.

This lather doesn't have to be renewed. It stands up until you are through.

Get a package before next wash day

Go to one of the dealers listed below and get a package of Ajax Naphtha Chips.

This package is an extra big, economy laundry size. It contains five times as much as most packages. Yet it costs but 60 cents.

Use Ajax Naphtha Chips just once—you'll never change. They are the efficiency soap—the economy soap—perfected for one purpose—use in your washing machine.

It is almost as dangerous to place your insurance in a company you know nothing about as it is to put hot ashes in a wooden box. We represent the good, old "Hartford" that has paid every just claim promptly for over a hundred years. You may think you have nothing to insure but adversity strikes from many angles, and the "Hartford" sells many kinds of insurance.

Can you give me the recipe for an old-fashioned election cake?

The receipt for Hartford Election cake calls for five pounds of butter and sifted flour, two pounds of sugar, two pounds of eggs, half ounce of nutmeg, two pounds of it and a quart of milk. Rub the butter into the flour, add half the sugar, the yeast, half the eggs, the nutmeg (a Jewkewarn), then the eggs well beaten and the remainder of the milk. Beat well and add the sugar, spices and fruit. Bake three, four hours until very brown.

In case, however, it is impossible to forecast which of the presidential candidates is favored by the stars, the prophecy that the White House will be in the White House, made by an astrologer, who foretold that the league of nations will have an astonishing effect on the voters. This should be a lucky away business for every sort of a promising rule under which to vote in favor or to seek support.

All the signs of this day appear to eliminate the possibility of war, whether it be in public or domestic affairs.

The Cost of a Hole in the Ground

COMMENTING upon the rise in the price of gasoline, a man who is unfamiliar with petroleum production writes:

"The Lord, who put the oil in the earth, charges no more for it than he ever did. It comes for nothing out of the ground when you dig a hole

This is true, if it comes out of the ground without help. The greatly increased cost lies in digging the hole, casing it, carrying the oil when it comes out, and transporting and handling it on its way to the refinery.

Petroleum Age in its September issue says: "The cost of drilling and equipping a well at the present scale of prices for materials and labor runs from Five Thousand Dollars for a shallow sand pump to Seventy-Thousand Dollars for the deep wells. general average covering the entire country would run about Twenty Thousand Dollars per well."

One item which is often overlooked is the cost of ling wells which fail to produce oil. It is estimated that from 20 to 30 percent of all wells put down dry holes.

Yet, in spite of all discouragements, which included shortage of casing, difficulties of transportation, the increasing expense of labor, on July 31st, there were eleven thousand wells drilling or under east of the Rocky Mountains, with completions almost equal in number.

The total expense, including investment in drilling tools, lease equipment and labor, is roughly estimated at one billion dollars.

Deducting two hundred fifty million dollars (25 per cent) for salvage on equipment susceptible of further use, the net investment in new production for the year will be seven hundred fifty million dollars.

Oil is usually discovered in spots remote from centers. The cost of pumping and transporting the refinery is a heavy charge. At the refinery charge

All of these factors add to the cost of a product w

"Perhaps she may know some secret passage. There might be one underneath. I do not know, yet in what other way could the body have been removed?"

Shelby shook his head gloomily, his eyes searching the floor for evidence and finding none. To all appearances it seemed smooth and solid.

"I don't know," he said. "That idea may be as good as any. You might take this broken knife of mine and see if you can start anything. What was going on out there?"

"There are men hiding behind the bank of the creek; I think they are Indians, and there may be others off to the right in the woods."

"Just a guard there to see that we don't get away. They'll wait until dark and then try to burn us out. I reckon the bucks don't like my shooting. That was a rifle."

"X's; the bullet struck the log," he crossed over and looked out anxiously.

"I thought it might be a signal, but I guess not. Don't seem to be anything moving."

He straightened up again, his eyes surveying the room. "If we only had two more in this outfit we might give these devils a run for their money. As it is, we can't do anything but wait."

in front. We'll make it hot while it lasts."

She watched him shift the bench, and then stood upon it to look out. The sun had set, and the light was dim. She would utilize what little light remained, she must search at once.

"Nothing," she said. "I can see nothing moving. It is growing dark. Let me take the knife."

He gave it to her, and she got down upon her knees on the floor, anxiously testing the openings between the blocks with the broken blade. Shelby turned his head occasionally, barely able to distinguish her movements, yet felt little confidence in the success of the effort. Any attempt to escape through the door would be suicidal; in all probability, in spite of the silence, and seeming loneliness of the scene with out a dozen eyes were even then out on the entrance, ready to shoot them down the instant either appeared. And there was no other way outside, unless it might be through some secret passage existing underground. MacKlin had certainly disappeared somewhere; the vanishing of his body was no miracle, and this theory of how it might have been accomplished alone appeared reasonable. In spite of his doubts, however, manly pride and the desire to escape, he could not let this remain to which he could cling to; their only chance lay in some such discovery.

Yes, the darkness was even then deepening, the deepening darkness gave her no sign of encouragement. Shelby could bear the strain no longer in silence.

There is nothing to be found," he asked anxiously, "no appearance of a trap?"

She lifted her head with a frown. "Nothing that I have been able to move," she answered. "I have found a block which does not appear to fit, but I cannot get it out. I can get the knife blade between, and it doesn't seem to touch any earth below, yet the slab is immovable."

"Let me try my strength," he said. He started back to the block, but at that instant there came a sudden burst of light without, the blinding light of the sun, and the darkness was dispelled. Shelby was pierced by a single ray, and he dropped to his knees with his eyes peering out through the opening between the blocks. He also descended, and he climbed to her post of defense on the bench. The bullets were fired, and the cabin walls were pelted with a hail of lead.
